

William (Bill) Easter

Bill Easter is a serial entrepreneur and inventor who previously worked at Bell Labs. Bill cofounded Semplastics in 2000 and is currently the CEO of Semplastics/X-MAT. As a life-long learner, he has degrees in Geology, Chemical Engineering, and Liberal studies from 3 different universities as well as a graduate degree in Engineering Science from Penn State University. Bill currently has 62 US patents issued with several more pending.